AN ACT for the encouragement of literature and genius.

Whereas it is perfectly agreeable to the principles of natural equity and justice, that every author should be secured in receiving the profits that may arise from the sale of his works, and such security may encourage men of learning and genius to publish their writings; which may do honor to their country, and service to mankind.

Be it enacted by the governor, council and representatives, in general court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That the author of any book or pamphlet not yet printed, or of any map or chart, being an inhabitant or resident in these United States, and his heirs and assigns, shall have the sole liberty of printing, publishing and vending the same within this State, for the term of fourteen years, to commence from the day of its first publication in this State. And if any person or persons within the said term of fourteen years as aforesaid, shall presume to print or re-print any such book, pamphlet, map or chart within this State, or to import or introduce into this State for sale, any copies thereof, re-printed beyond the limits of this State, or shall knowingly publish, vend and utter, or distribute the same without the consent of the proprietor thereof in writing, signed in the presence of two credible witnesses, every such person or persons shall forfeit and pay to the proprietor of such book, pamphlet, map or chart double the value of all the copies thereof, so printed, imported, distributed, vended, or exposed for sale; to be recovered by such proprietor in any court of law in this State, in proper to try the same.

Provided nevertheless, That no author, assignee or proprietor of any such book, pamphlet, map or chart shall be entitled to take the benefit of this statute, until he shall duly register his name as author, assignee, or proprietor, with the title thereof, in the office of the Secretary of this State, who is hereby empowered and directed to enter the same on record.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That at the expiration of the said term of fourteen years, in the cases above mentioned, the sole right of printing and disposing of any such book, pamphlet, map or chart in this State, shall return to the author thereof, if then living, and his heirs and assigns, for the term of fourteen years more, to commence at the end of said first term; and that all and every person or persons who shall re-print, import, vend, utter or distribute in this State, any copies thereof without the consent of such proprietor, obtained as aforesaid, during said second term of fourteen years, shall be liable to the same penalties, recoverable in the same manner as is herein before enacted and provided.

And whereas it is equally necessary, for the encouragement of learning, that the inhabitants of this State be furnished with useful books, & c., at reasonable prices:

Be it further enacted, That whenever any such author or proprietor of such book, pamphlet, map or chart, shall neglect to furnish the public with sufficient editions thereof, or shall sell the same at a price unreasonable, and beyond what may be adjudged a sufficient compensation for his labour, time, expence, and risque of sale, the judge of the superior court in this State, on complaint thereof made to him in writing, is hereby authorized and empowered to summon such author or proprietor to appear before the next superior court, to be holden in that county where such author or proprietor dwells, if a resident in this State, if not, in that county where such complainant dwells; and said court are [sic] hereby authorized and empowered to enquire into the justice of said complaint, and if the same be found true, to take such sufficient recognizance and security of such author or proprietor, conditioned that he shall within such reasonable time, as said court shall direct, publish and offer for sale in this State, a sufficient number of copies of such book, pamphlet, map, or chart, at such reasonable price as said court shall, on due consideration affix: And if such author or proprietor shall, before said court, neglect or refuse to give such security as aforesaid, the said court are [sic] hereby authorized and empowered to give such complainant, a full and ample licence to re-print and publish such book, pamphlet, map or chart, in such numbers and for such term as said court shall judge just and reasonable: Provided said complainant shall give sufficient security before said court, to afford said reprinted edition at such reasonable price as said court shall thereto affix.

And be it further enacted, That any person or persons who shall procure and print any unpublished manuscript, without the consent and approbation of the author or proprietor thereof, first had and obtained, (if such author or proprietor be living, and resident in, or inhabitant of these United States) shall be liable to suffer and pay to the said author or proprietor his just damages for such injury; to be recovered by action brought on this statute, in any court of law in this State, proper to try the same.

Provided always, That nothing in this act shall extend to affect, prejudice or confirm the rights which any person may have to the printing or publishing of any book, pamphlet, map or chart, at common law, in cases not mentioned in this act, or to screen from legal punishment any person or persons who may be guilty of printing or publishing any book, pamphlet or paper that may be prophane, treasonable, defamatory, or injurious to government, morals or religion.

Provided also, That this act shall not extend, or be construed to extend in favour, or for the benefit of any author or persons residing in, or inhabitant of any other of the United States, until the State or States, in which such person or persons reside or dwell, shall have passed similar laws in favour of the authors of new publications, and their heirs and assigns.

At a general assembly, begun and held at Newbern, on the 19th day of November, in the year of our Lord 1785: Being the first session of this assembly. Chapter 26.

AN ACT for securing literary property.

Whereas nothing is more strictly a man's own than the fruit of his study, and it is proper that men should be encouraged to pursue useful knowledge by the hope of reward; and as the security of literary property must greatly tend to encourage genius, to promote useful discoveries, and to the general extension of arts and commerce:

1. Be it enacted by the general assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the author of any book, map or chart, not hitherto printed, who is a citizen of the United States, and his heirs and assigns, shall have the sole liberty of printing, publishing, and vending the same within this State for the term of fourteen years, to commence on the day of its publication; and if any person or persons within the said term of fourteen years, shall presume to print, reprint, or publish any such book, map or chart within this State, or shall import any copy or copies of the same, which have been reprinted beyond the limits of the State, and shall knowingly publish, distribute, or vend the same without the consent of the author or proprietor, in writing, signed in the presence of two credible witnesses, such offender or offenders shall forfeit to the proprietor all the books, maps or charts thus printed, reprinted, imported, published, or offered for sale, together with double the value of the articles so imported; one moiety of which money shall go to the State, the other moiety to him who shall sue for the same for the benefit of the party injured, in any court of record within this State. Provided nevertheless, That no author or proprietor of any such book, map or chart, shall be entitled to the benefit of this act, unless he shall, before publication, duly enter his name as author or proprietor, together with the title of the book, map or chart to be published, in the office of the secretary of the State, who is hereby directed to enter the same on record; nor unless he shall, before publication, have delivered to the secretary of the State one copy of such book, map or chart for the use of the executive of the State; of which entry and for which copy the secretary is hereby required to give him a certificate and receipt.

II. And be it further enacted, If the author or publisher of any book as aforesaid, shall set an unreasonable price on the same, regard being had to the probable labour, expence, and risk of such author and publisher, the judges of the supreme court, on complaint thereof made in writing by two or more persons, are hereby authorized and empowered to summons such author or publisher to appear before next supreme court, to be holden in that county or district where such author or publisher usually resides; and said court shall enquire into the justice of the complaint, and if the same, on full examination, shall appear to be well founded, they shall correct or settle the price; and if said author or publisher after such price is fixed by the court, shall sell any book at a higher rate, he shall for every offence forfeit twenty Spanish milled dollars, one moiety to the State and the other moiety to the person who shall sue for the same.

III. And be it further enacted, That every author who is a citizen in any of the United States, and whose work shall originally be published in any of the United States where laws similar to this are or may be passed for the security of literary property, or his assigns, being also citizens of the United States, shall be entitled to the benefit of this act and none others. Provided always, That nothing contained in this act shall be construed to prevent any person from reprinting any book, map or chart that has been published; or from importing, reprinting, or publishing any book, map or chart that shall be originally published in any other country; nor shall anything in this act be construed to encourage or protect any authors or publishers of books, maps or charts which may be dangerous to civil liberty, or to the peace or morals of society.

LAWS OF THE STATE OF NEW-YORK, PASSED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF SAID STATE AT THEIR NINTH SESSION. 99-100 (New York, Samuel & John Loudon 1786).

*. Editor's Note: Except for the Statute of Anne, this appendix is primarily derived from a portion of the document Laws passed in the United States Since 1983 Relating to Copyright, which was published as Copyright Office Bulletin No. 3, and revised until 1963. The Preface to that document reads as follows: "This loose-leaf compilation of United States copyright laws and related matter, which has been prepared for public as well as official use, is essentially a revision and expansion of Copyright Office Bulletin No. 3, originally compiled in 1900 by Thorvald Solberg, who was then Register of Copyrights." A previous compilation which covered the years 1783-1952 and was prepared under the supervision of Louis Charles Smith, former Senior Attorney in the Copyright Office, was internally processed in 1952 as a working paper for the Copyright Office staff. This new edition has been brought up to date through the year 1962."
